

NOMINATION TURNED DOWN BY REV. BEERS

First Baptist Pastor
Refuses to Run for School Post

DEMOS SCHEDULE SESSION TO DECIDE NEW ACTION

The Rev. Laurence T. Beers, pastor of First Baptist church, yesterday declined the Democratic nomination for school director, leaving borough Democrats the problem of finding one in time for the general election.

The pastor made the announcement to his congregation yesterday morning and followed it up with a statement to The Mercury.

The Rev. Beers got the nomination without seeking it at the primary election the past May 19. There was no candidate on the ballot for one of the three school director nominations, but he got the most write-in votes.

Paul P. Kohler, borough Democratic chairman, said last night, "We'll call a meeting of party committeemen and committeewomen. They'll decide what to do." The meeting, he said, probably will be held at the end of the week.

Kohler pointed out that the Rev. Beers was the only candidate to get a substantial number of votes for the nomination.

KOHLER HAD planned to talk to the pastor over the weekend in an effort to persuade him to accept the nomination, but Kohler said this visit was canceled when the Rev. Beers notified him of the statement he was to make.

The Rev. Beers said that, long before the primary, he'd been approached by the Democratic chairman, but he had told the chairman "I could not see my way clear to run for office."

In unpublished reports, he said, his answer was made into a statement that he would be nominated on a write-in ballot. To counteract these unpublished reports, the Rev. Beers said, he told his congregation he was not a candidate for public office.

The unpublished reports, he said, were made without any authorization from him.

HE WAS ATTENDING a convention in Denver, Colo., on Primary day, he said, and was surprised to find later he had been awarded the nomination because of the "small number" of write-in votes.

"I would not be truthful if I did not confess that this constitutes a great personal temptation," the pastor said. "I feel that I have a responsibility to make whatever contribution I can to the schools of a community that I have come to love in the 20 months I have been here."

"However, I have an obligation to the First Baptist church of Pottstown, an obligation that must take priority over my obligation to the community as a whole."

He said that if elected, he would inevitably come under "public scrutiny, with my actions subject to public judgment."

HOLIDAY BURGLARS HIT FOUR 'GAS' STATIONS

The owners of the four stations that received visits from thieves over the weekend look over the damage. At left, Stanley Bill, manager of the Sinclair station at High and Montgomery streets, shows one of the tires that thieves left behind early Saturday morning. The bandits did take nine tires with them, however, along with four tubes and two rear view mirrors, all new. In the next photo, W. E. "Shorty" Kinckner, manager of the Sunoco station at High and Adams street, points to a cigarette machine that thieves rifled. They broke a back door down Saturday night to get into his place. Across High street from the Kinckner station is that of Buckwalter and Shaw.

In the third picture, co-manager H. Bert Shaw shows off the window that thieves smashed. They didn't get in, however, because the window is the Pullman type that doesn't lift up. At far right, Oliver Bainbridge, manager of the Merit station in Limerick, pokes his body through what a few hours earlier had been filled with plate glass. The owner's wife heard the glass crash early yesterday morning, however, and walked outside of the house, behind the station, and scared them away. She got a description of the car, stating that it looked like a "blue, 1951 Ford sedan."

ROBBERS FAIL IN ATTEMPTS TO BURGLARIZE 2 PLACES

By NORMAND POIRIER
(Mercury Staff Writer)

In a two-day crime wave, thieves burglarized two gasoline stations and tried to break into two others in brazen, weekend escapades that netted them more than $250 in tires, merchandise and cash.

Three High street service stations and one in Limerick were on the agenda of the holiday thieves.

Hardest hit was Stanley Bill, manager of the Sinclair service station at High and Montgomery streets.

Stolen from his place, which he opened only one month ago, were nine new tires, four tubes, and two rear view mirrors.

Bill estimated the loss at $250, the retail value.

The second station where entrance was gained was the Sunoco station at High and Adams street, managed by W. E. "Shorty" Kinckner.

There, thieves managed to bust open his cigarette machine and make off with the change in the coin box. Kinckner won't know how much was taken until today, when the vending machine representative makes a check.

The other two stations, from which nothing was taken, were Buckwalter and Shaw's service station, across the street from Kinckner's High street station, and the Merit Service station on route 422 in Limerick.

A LEAD to the thieves' identity may have been furnished State police by the wife of the owner of the Limerick station.

Mrs. Oliver Bainbridge was awake in her house behind the station at 5:25 a. m. yesterday.

She heard a crash and the sound of broken glass. She got up and walked out to the yard. As her house door slammed, (Continued on Page Six)

Seniors Return From Class Trip, Find UN Building Tops All Sights

The UN building has pushed the poor old Radio City Music hall and Empire State building into the background, it was reported last night by Pottstown Senior High school seniors returned from a New York city trip they found "fabulous," "fantastic" and "very successful."

When asked what impressed them the most, three out of four seniors mentioned the UN secretariat and general assembly building.

As 18-year-old Robert Lamb, 226 Prospect street, put it, "It makes Radio City look old-fashioned." Lamb also noted that in addition to being impressed by Manhattan, the 105 seniors making the three-day trip that began Wednesday also impressed some Manhattanites by being well-dressed and well-behaved.

All the Pottstown Senior boys wore coats and at dinner, ties, too, and the girls wore stockings. Groups from other high schools they saw went in for jeans and slack outfits, Lamb asserted.

"I heard there were quite a few favorable comments from hotel men and so forth," he reported. CLAUDIA ELICKER, 17, of 1414 Cherry lane, said, "It was wonderful. Really a fabulous time. Wouldn't trade it for anything."

She made one reservation carefully. "The hours of sleep," she said, "were very limited. I've been making up ever since, believe me."

Miss Elicker and Darlette R. Shellenberger, 17, of 670 Spruce street, both pointed out that the rain was for them, well timed. Every time it really came down, the Pottstown group was either touring a building or eating.

Charles Gilliland, 18, of 677 North Keim street, was one of many who'd made written as well as spoken comments on the trip. He sent a postcard saying, "Mom, I'm having a very good time." The card got back before he did, at about 8:40 o'clock Friday night.

The Bowery ranked right behind the UN in his estimation. Lamb gave perhaps the best explanation of the UN buildings' attraction. "It's the engineering and the functional design," he said. (Continued on Page Six)

Rutter, who has fought shoulder to shoulder as well as toe to toe with Garber on different issues, announced he would campaign on a platform to reduce the job he seeks from a full-time to a part-time one.

He also said he wanted to build up the local's treasury, have it construct its own building and try to speed up grievance procedure.

ANOTHER MAJOR battle will be in the race for executive board. Sixteen were nominated. Seven will be elected. Union leaders predicted possible run-offs in the race for presidency, executive board and policy committee.

Nominations were made the past May 17.

Auto Workers to Vote In Run-Off Election

A run-off election or the office of trustee in Amalgamated Local 644, United Auto Workers (CIO), will be held today and tomorrow.

The polls will be open at the East End Quilt club for members of the Spicer shop and production units.

In the recent union election, Russell Saltzer picked up 344 votes, and Harry Frederick 306, both failing to pick up the necessary majority of votes cast.

New Plan Would Force Cutting of Weeds Here

In an effort to get people in Pottstown to cut their weeds and keep their lots clean, borough council's health and sanitation committee has asked for a new ordinance that in one respect would be more lenient, and from another standpoint, much more strict than the present one.

The move was made Friday night at a meeting of the committee with the borough manager, health officer and burgess, whose brother's lot has been under critical attack for several weeks.

Borough Solicitor C. Edmund Wells will be asked to have the ordinance drawn up in time for the June council meeting.

The new ordinance, if passed, is expected to contain the following major changes:

1) Now, a person notified to cut his weeds has only 48 hours to do so. The new ordinance would extend it to ten days.

2) Failure to comply with the clean-up order now can result in fines of from $5 to $25, plus what it costs the borough to cut the weeds.

The fines are expected to be increased. Councilman Paul P. Kohler at one point suggested they be raised from $25 to $125 instead of the present $5 to $25.

The matter was left to the borough solicitor so that he might rule on how high the fines can legally be.

THE ORDINANCE also will include the complete machinery for launching the "health menace" program and enforcing it.

Instead of acting only on "complaints" from citizens about weed-littered lots, the borough would advertise publicly once or twice a summer, telling all citizens that they have a certain number of days in which to have weeds cut and any "menace to health" cleaned up.

The ordinance would also designate who is responsible for deciding whether a person is a violator of the ordinance. This job will most likely fall to the health officer and fire marshal.

THE ORDINANCE also will say what action the borough should take in the case of violators. This action would mean the borough cutting the weeds itself, charging the violator for the work, and imposing a fine.

The new ordinance is a result of the action taken by 21 petitioners several weeks ago. They submitted a petition to the council asking that the lot of C. Francis Griffith at Price and Morris streets be cleaned up.

Peacock Takes Stroll Stops Cars on Route 100

A roving peacock out for a Sunday stroll stopped traffic on Route 100 for awhile early last night.

Curious motorists stretched their necks for an expected display of brilliant tail feathers.

But Mr. Peacock didn't seem to be in the mood for showing off. He just continued his strutting until he reached the home of his owner, Harvey T. Buckwalter.

Maybe he thought it was going to rain again. It would be a shame to get those beautiful feathers wet.

$40,000 Fire Sweeps Barn; 2d for Farmer in Past Year

While a farmer and his family watched television in their living room Friday night, flames in their adjacent barn worked themselves up into a fiery inferno that killed all 37 trapped cattle, destroyed expensive farm machinery and completely leveled the barn.

Damage was estimated at more than $40,000 by fire authorities.

The cause of the fire is unknown.

For George Fritz, owner of the barn, it was the second disastrous fire in a year. And he didn't know it was burning until he heard the fire whistle blowing in Limerick, one mile away.

Fritz was so upset and discouraged last night that his wife said he was in no condition to discuss the recent tragedy.

IN APRIL, 1952, a barn on a farm he had rented burned to the ground, destroying machinery of his valued at more than $18,000.

The barn that burned Friday night was located on his farm on the Linfield-Schwenksville road.

Firemen from seven area companies answered the call to fight the blaze, which was spotted shortly after 10 o'clock Friday night.

Most of their efforts had to be concentrated, however, on saving the nearby farm house, corn crib, and two-story garage.

THE 37 CATTLE never had a chance, one fireman said. When the first of the fire fighters reached the scene, the barn was already completely enveloped in flames.

"It went up in flames the same way as when you strike a match, to a burlap bag," one fireman said.

Besides the 37 cattle, the fire destroyed two tractors, three wagons, one mowing machine, one corn binder, four tons of fertilizer which the farmer had just bought, ten tons of hay, ten tons of straw, and another smaller shed in which were garden tools.

Fire Chief Gordon Miller of the Limerick Fire company said that was a list of the major equipment and items in the barn.

CHIEF MILLER estimated the $40,000 damage after discussing the situation with Fritz last night.

"I think it'll be at least $40,000," he said. "The cattle alone were worth $18,000," he said.

GRADUATES TOLD OF 'NEW LIFE'

Rev. Butler Addresses
400 at Pottstown
High Rites

A message of Divine guidance was laid before the graduating class of Pottstown High school last night at baccalaureate service by the Rev. Heywood L. Butler, pastor of Second Baptist church.

Speaking before an audience of 400 parents and friends, the Rev. Butler told the graduates they are now on the threshold of a new period of life.

The Rev. Butler used "God's Invitation to Youth" as his sermon theme, taking his text from Jeremiah, Third chapter, Fourth verse.

He attempted to point out four main points: youth needs a guide, God is willing to take them in His direction, the way in which to engage His attention and when He seeks to be sought.

OPENING THE program, which was held in the Senior High school auditorium beginning at 7:30 p. m., was an introductory number by the school band under the direction of Lester F. C. Smith.

While the band played, the professional of graduates, faculty and school board members made its entrance.

Invocation was delivered by the Rev. C. William Ebbert, pastor of St. Paul's Reformed church. An anthem, "Hear My Prayer," was sung by the Seales Memorial Methodist church choir, and the Scripture reading and the prayer was offered by the Rev. Eugene B. Umberger, pastor of the Transfiguration Lutheran church.

In elaborating on his four points, the Rev. Butler said, "This is the case at the commencement of the new period of life, such is the evening of the day which I now address you."

He said God has preserved you through all the perils of your life to this hour and has thereby laid (Continued on Page Six)

Heavy Rains Sweep Memorial Day Plans Into Flooded Drains

A torrential rainfall swept through Pottstown and the surrounding area over the weekend and not only played havoc with picnic plans but also left behind a wake of damage.

For the second straight weekend, local and area residents felt the wrath of Mother Nature as she pounded the area with rain and put the damper on Memorial Day holiday plans.

There was nothing but rain, rain and more rain from early Saturday morning, just about the time when vacationers were getting ready for weekend drives, until early Sunday morning.

During the weekend 1.12 inches of rain fell in Pottstown, sending this month's total to a high of 9.17 inches. It rained on 21 of 31 days during May, making it the wettest month of the year thus far.

THE PAST MONTH, April, which is supposed to be the month of rain, the weatherman's tabulation read a lowly 4.55 inches.

at more than $40,000. The barn was owned by George Fritz, who only a year ago April, lost almost $20,000 in damages when another barn, which he had rented, burned to the ground destroying much of his equipment, grain and hay.

Nuptial Mass Unites Couple as 100 Guests Watch

SNAPPING HIS teeth on the slice of wedding cake held by his bride, is brand-newly married Michael J. Olock. His new wife is the former Rita Gayle Schoch, and they were married by the Rev. John Taptich at nuptials in St. John's Catholic church of the Greek Rite. The reception was held in the Moose ballroom and later the couple left for a week's honeymoon in New York city. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Radgowski, 439 Chestnut street, are the parents of the bride. The groom is the son of Anna Olock, 171 North Franklin street.

As more than 100 guests looked on, Rita Gayle Schoch was united in marriage to Michael J. Olock at a nuptial mass Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Radgowski, 439 Chestnut street, are the parents of the bride. The groom is the son of Anna Olock, 171 North Franklin street.

St. John's Catholic church of the Greek Rite formed the setting for the double ring wedding, performed at the foot of an altar adorned with green palm branches and white gladiolus and carnations.

Officiating was the Rev. John Taptich, pastor.

Background music for the ceremony was sung by the mixed choir of the church, and soloists were George and Mary Parvinsky and Joseph Lazar.

Escorted down the aisle by her stepfather, Mr. Radgowski, the bride wore traditional white from her tiara to her satin slippers.

Entirely of chantilly lace, her fitted bodice was trimmed with sequins and applique motifs. It was styled with a jewel neckline and full length sleeves which tapered to points at her wrists.

Tapered inserts of lace, extending into points, highlighted her skirts of bouffant tulle over satin which stretched to a six panel, triple train of court length.

Iridescent sequins and pearls crested her open scroll tiara, which caught to her hair a fingertip veil of silk illusion.

In her bouquet, the bride carried a white orchid framed with baby breath and stephanotis, and tied with ribbons of white satin.

Honor maid was Margaret Costa, Roversford.

Over lilac taffeta, she wore a frock of blue lace and net, its bodice, all of lace, cut with a low, scalloped neckline.

Made like the bride's, her bouffant skirt of net over taffeta featured scalloped lace insertions.

Mitts of matching lace and a halo tiara of straw woven with floral petals and sporting an eyelash veil with rhinestones completed her costume.

She carried an old fashioned bouquet of mixed flowers.

Bridesmaids were Mary Fausta and Helen Surma, both of Pottstown. Phyllis Capaferri, Roversford, and Beatrice Abrezzi, Rockaway Beach, New York.

Their green gowns were like that of the maid of honor and they wore accessories matching in Summer green.

Each carried a white gardenia centered amid baby's breath and lavender carnations.

Best man was Vincent DeRosa,

Rockaway Beach, N. Y., a nephew of the groom.

Ushers included Joseph Lipko, Joseph Costa, Steve Demeter and Steve Sikora.

To view her daughter's wedding, the mother of the bride chose a sheer, strapless frock of navy blue with a white crocheted jacket. Her accessories were in white and navy, and she wore a corsage of white gardenias and red roses.

Navy blue print was chosen by the groom's mother, who wore black accessories, and a corsage like the bride's mother's flowers.

Following the service, 300 guests were entertained at a reception in the Moose ballroom, where decoration colors were lilac, green and white to match the wedding party.

For a week-long honeymoon in New York city, the bride changed to a pink linen suit with navy blue accessories. She pinned to her shoulder the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Upon their return, the newlyweds will reside with the groom's parents at 171 North Franklin street.

The bride was graduated from Pottstown High school in 1950, the groom in 1946. Both are employed by the Birdsboro Armor Cast company.

Descendant of Pioneer Family Wed In Old Kraussdale Meeting House

A New York City girl, descendant of one of the pioneer Schwenkfelders of this locality, was married recently in an old meeting house at Kraussdale where her forefathers worshipped almost a century ago.

The bride was Miss Marian S. Berky, daughter of Mrs. Mabel and the late Darius W. Berky, 15 Fairview street, Boyertown, who was married to Charles A. Read New York City. It was the first wedding ceremony ever held in the old meeting house which was abandoned more than 40 years ago but is preserved by the Schwenkfelders as a historic landmark.

During the period the meeting house was in use from about 1836 to 1910, wedding ceremonies traditionally were not held in the churches. The separate Schwenkfelder meeting houses in the area were closed and the congregations united into one with the erection of the Palm Schwenkfelder church in 1910. The tradition was broken soon thereafter when a daughter of the Palm pastor, Dr. O. S. Kriebel, Pennsburg, was married in that church.

The mother of Miss Berky, the former Mabel Schultz, was the second person married in the church with the passing of the old tradition.

DR. ELMER E. S. JOHNSON, Chapel, and the Rev. Lester K. Kriebel, Palm, pastor of the Palm Schwenkfelder church, officiated at the ceremony. The meeting house was decorated with hooked rugs, ferns and baskets of white flowers, arranged in keeping with the Colonial atmosphere.

The bride wore a ballerina length gown of white embroidered organdy with daisy applique and an organdy cloche. She was given in marriage by her brother, Andrew S. Berky, Hossensack, director of the Schwenkfelder library, Pennsburg. Mrs. Berky attended her sister-in-law as matron of honor, wearing a gown of pale green silk organdy.

Ernest J. Read Jr., Washington D. C., was best man and ushers were William R. McGleughlin Jr., N. Y., and Charles Lydell, Oreland.

Following a reception at the Lehigh Valley Country club, the newlyweds left on a three-week wedding trip to Nassau. Upon their return, they will reside in New York City.

OUT-OF-STATE guests were furnished elaborate maps by artists of Time, Life, Inc., by whom the bride is employed, as an aid in reaching the rustic church.

The bridegroom, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Read, Washington D. C., is a graduate of the University of Virginia and its law school. He is a member of the law firm of Reid and Priest, New York City. The bride is a graduate of Boyertown High school, class of 1938, and of Mt. Holyoke college.

Music for the ceremony was played by Mrs. Stephen W. Roberts, wife of the headmaster of Perkiomen school, Pennsburg, on an electric organ.

The organ was introduced into the meeting house for the occasion. Since the vicinity lacks electrical service, a motor-generator was also imported. The generator, located in an open field about 200 feet from the church, provided the necessary power.

Frank Hilton Heard In Memorial Day Rites at Boyertown

Because of poor weather, Memorial Day services in Boyertown were conducted in the Church of the Good Shepherd, Evangelical and Reformed, with Frank C. Hilton, past national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars as the main speaker.

Prior to the service in the Reformed church, members of the firing squads and color guards of both the Charles B. Yeager Post 471, American Legion, Boyertown, and the VFW Post 3187, Boyertown, fired volleys and sounded taps during heavy rains on the Union, Monmouth and Fairview cemeteries, Boyertown. The scheduled parade was cancelled.

Every member of the Boyertown High school band, under the direction of Gerald R. Grabert, instrumental music supervisor, played two selections and the Star Spangled Banner during the service in the church.

Services at Hill church in the afternoon were also cancelled but the firing squad of the VFW post participated in honoring the deceased veterans on the Amityville cemetery.

Cal Will Get Medal For Nursing 'Waifs'

WILMORE, Ky., May 31 (AP)—For nursing them instead of nibbling them, Muffet is getting a medal this week.

The seven-year-old cat, with a family tree like a briar patch, contributed to human happiness and made herself admirable by mothering three motherless squirrels.

This in itself is commendable, at least from a squirrel's viewpoint, because Muffet has been known to eat squirrels.

She took these youngsters to her bosom after they were found in a tree on the farm of her owner, Mr. and Mrs. Arch Adamson.

THE AWARD—a kind of Optimist club cup in the cat world—is sponsored by a catfood manufacturer, with a special committee picking the winners.

The medal, says the committee, was designed by prominent sculptor and can be treasured not only as an honor but also as an object of classic beauty.

It has no advertising on either side.

Carnations Cost 25 Cents, But Memory Is Priceless

AVON, N. J., May 31 (AP)—George Bruton, district commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, found today a half dozen carnations alongside the Memorial Day wreath placed on the veteran's monument here.

Pinned to the carnations was this note in a child's handwriting: "Do not touch these. It's for my uncle who died. It cost 25 cents."

Rev. J. A. Longacre, Boyertown Minister, Ordained at Service

The Church of the Holy Communion, Philadelphia, was crowded with relatives, pastors and friends the past week as the retiring president of the Ministerium of Pennsylvania, the Rev. Dr. Emil E. Fischer, ordained 26 young men into the Lutheran ministry.

One of those men ordained was the Rev. Jacob A. Longacre, son of the Rev. and Mrs. David F. Longacre, 115 North Reading avenue, Boyertown, who today, along with his wife, will begin his work in the Lutheran Church of the Ascension at Lancaster.

Attending the ordination service from Boyertown were Charles A. Y. Davidheiser and Paul R. Knauer, president and secretary of the local Lutheran church council respectively; Walter R. LeFevre, Walter W. Davidheiser, Linwood Renninger and Harold Roth, members of the church council; and Mrs. Walter W. Davidheiser, Mrs. Harold Roth, Mrs. Elda Schoenly Wilson and Mrs. George A. Romig. Many persons of the host church also attended the service.

Yesterday morning, the Rev. Jacob A. Longacre, preached the sermon in St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church, Boyertown. Next Sunday, he will be installed as pastor of his new charge in Lancaster with the service beginning at 10:45 a. m.

THE REV. DR. CHARLES L. VENABLE, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Harrisburg, where the Rev. Jacob A. Longacre served for a year as student assistant, will deliver the charge to the congregation and the Rev. David F. Longacre, father of the young man to be installed, will deliver the charge to his son. Both pastors will share in the installation service.

Authorization for the installation has been given by the Rev. Dr. Dwight Putman, president of the Central Synod since this congregation was one of the congregations in the Lancaster conference which was in the program of realignment and as a result, was transferred from the Ministerium of Pennsylvania to the Central Synod.

Poker Playing Aids Women's Adjustment

LOS ANGELES, May 31 (AP)—A college psychology student reported today that a study he made of 31 poker playing women showed they were better adjusted emotionally than the average woman.

William McGlothlin of Portland, Tenn., a graduate student at the University of Southern California, said he questioned the women at public clubs in nearby Gardena where draw poker is legal.

McGlothlin, working for a master of science degree in psychology, said he found that, for these gambling women poker is an all-consuming activity that combats boredom. He reported that 25 of the 31 women admitted they lost more than 50 percent of the time and had been doing so for the past two to 12 years. The women, he reported, ranged in age from 25 to 54 and played poker in Gardena on the average of three times a week.

Royal Navy Probes Suspected Sabotage

LONDON, May 31 (AP)—An admiralty spokesman said today that agents are probing suspected sabotage aboard the Royal navy's destroyer Barfleur.

The Barfleur, a 2300-ton "early battle" class destroyer-leader, is lying at Devonport on the South coast.

The spokesman said damage discovered yesterday was confined to a forward gun mounting. He declined to elaborate but described the damage as "not serious." The Barfleur mounts four 4.5-inch guns and a four-incher. The ship was completed in September, 1944.

South Koreans Beat Back Red Attack

SEOUL, Monday, June 1 (AP)—Rain-soaked South Korean soldiers fought hand to hand with 1000 Chinese Communists on the Central front Sunday and hammered the Reds back out of Allied lines with heavy losses.

Fighting along the twisting, 155-mile battlefield dropped off sharply last night and early Monday. The biggest action reported was a Chinese patrol attack on the West-Central front. It was driven off.

Peiping radio boasted that Communist armies "wiped out over 1500" Allied troops in the bitter fighting Wednesday through Saturday. The propaganda broadcast asserted more than 1200 were South Koreans.

The Eighth army has reported thousands of Chinese were killed or wounded in the past week's Red assaults on the Central and Western fronts. More than 15,000 Reds were thrown into the actions.

AN ESTIMATED 1000 Chinese Reds hit Allied lines on the Central front Sunday and were thrown back with losses.

The US eighth army said 323 Chinese were killed or wounded in the unsuccessful attacks on Capitol Hill and another main line Allied position just east of it. Allied losses were not given.

The Reds hurled a battalion at the veteran South Korean Capitol division holding the hill named in its honor. A reinforced company of 200 Reds attacked the adjoining main line position.

The attack at midnight reached close range after two hours and raged for another hour with bayonets, knives, rifle clubs and bare fists on the crest of an outpost hill.

Peron's Police Foil Bombing Attempt

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, May 31 (AP)—Police at the town of Eva Peron, capital of Buenos Aires province, said today they had thwarted a bomb plot at the Jockey club there.

They said they found the bomb last night with its fuse lit and got rid of it before it exploded.

The provincial Government expropriated the club May 22 and newspapers said police believed the bomb was set in vengeance for the seizure.

There have been 14 bomb explosions in Argentina in recent weeks, resulting in six deaths and many injured.

The Game Counts, Not the Award

PARIS, May 31 (AP)—All his life, Emile Warin, a mason from the north of France, has wanted to ascend the Eiffel tower as he presented his ticket for the trip up the 64-year-old structure, the ticket-taker stopped him.

"You are the 25 millionth visitor to the Eiffel tower," he said, "and have won the deluxe automobile which goes with this event."

Warin accepted the machine, in rather stunned fashion, and then said: "I'd still like to go up to the top of the tower."

So he did.

New Electric Organ Vanishes as Factions Argue on Ownership

MILLERSTOWN, May 31 (AP)—A $2400 electric organ is missing from its place in St. Peter's Union church, near this Perry county town.

Members of two factions of the Reformed Lutheran congregation were puzzled over the mysterious disappearance discovered a few days ago during preparations for Memorial Day services.

The organ was bought the past year by the church aid society. Recently one element of the congregation, led by the Rev. Stuart Lengle who served the church 20 years, expressed its desire to withdraw and erect its own building. The remaining members are headed by Raymond Fogle.

A Lewistown music store which sold the organ to the church disclosed that the balance of the cost was paid recently but declined to state who paid it.

Both elements of the congregation claim partial ownership of the organ since all members helped with initial payments. Spokesmen for both sides say they have no idea where the organ could be.

The Swiss confederation around which Switzerland was founded was set up in 1291.

Memorial Services Held; Royersford Parade Called Off

Ex-servicemen, firemen and speakers braved a pelling rain Saturday morning to honor fallen comrades at memorial services in two cemeteries.

A scheduled parade in Royersford was called off because of the rain but the rites at the burying grounds were conducted.

A group of some 20 members of Capt. Harris Buckwalter American Legion post, Post 6541 Veterans of Foreign Wars and members of the two local fire companies went by car to Fernwood cemetery.

The Rev. R. E. Zollinhofer, pastor of the Nazarene church, spoke for the ex-servicemen's memorial, and the Rev. Paul J. Henry, pastor of Grace Lutheran church, spoke for the firemen at a service held around a memorial stone erected by the Friendship and Humane Fire companies.

THREE VOLLEYS were fired and taps were sounded after the speakers talked briefly.

A similar service was conducted by Walter Caffrey American Legion post and Liberty Fire company, of Spring City, in Zion's cemetery, where the Rev. Ralph L. Alderfer, Spring City Lutheran pastor, delivered a brief address. The fire company dedicated a plot of ground upon which a marker will be erected later.

Royersford High School Seniors Hear Rev. Zollinhofer at Baccalaureate

Royersford High school seniors, who will be graduated at commencement exercises tomorrow night, attended baccalaureate services in the high school auditorium last night.

The 41 members of the class and a large congregation attending heard the Rev. R. E. Zollinhofer, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, deliver a sermon on the theme, "Moses' Supreme Choice."

Other local ministers taking part in the service were the Rev. Paul J. Henry, Grace Lutheran church, who delivered the invocation; the Rev. Harold C. Kellogg, Epiphany (Episcopal) church, who read the scripture and offered prayer; and the Rev. Clarence C. Reeder, Trinity Evangelical Congregational church, who closed the service with the benediction.

The High school choral club, directed by Alice A. Schimpf, sang two numbers, "The Lord's Prayer" and "Eternal Life."

BASING HIS remarks on the passage of scripture found in Hebrews, 11th chapter and the 23d, 24th and 25th verses, the Rev. Zollinhofer asserted that Moses chose religion when it was at its worst, rather than sin when it was at its best.

In choosing his religion, he demanded three things:

First, his religion must give him personal experience; second, his religion must give him Communion with God; and finally, his religion must give him inspiration to tackle his job.

"By the same token, we must have religion that is personally ours, must have a religion that allows us to have Communion with God and we must have religion that will inspire us when everything else fails, because there are times when everything else does fail."

LISTED ALPHABETICALLY, the 41 members of the class are: Louis Alexander, Dorothy Bauer, Eugene Bergstresser, Betty Ann Burke, Elizabeth Crist, C. # Sicily Gets Plant Built With US Aid

PALERMO, Sicily, May 31 (AP) — Giant turbines began to turn today in the newest and biggest American-backed power project in Sicily.

Elbridge Durbrow, minister from the US embassy in Rome, was among American officials attending dedication of the project. The US supplied $6,300,000 of the total cost of $11,050,000. Italian Government officials told the people Sicily's power production had now been raised to five times that of pre-World War II output, largely through American aid.

The Kuljian corporation of Philadelphia was the mechanical and electrical engineer in this newest plant. Purified sea water will be used because of Palermo's critical water shortage.

Boy Makes Fast Buck With Quick Turnover

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 31 (AP) — R. B. Crossland bought a beautiful bouquet of flowers from a little boy who came to his door yesterday.

Proud of his 50-cent bargain he arranged the flowers in a vase for his wife.

Mrs. Crossland, arriving a few minutes later, looked at the flowers and ran outside.

The little salesman had cleaned out her garden.

Red Radio Reports Arrival of Elephant

SAN FRANCISCO, May 31 (AP) — The Chinese Communist radio today said a one and a half ton elephant named Asa (desire), presented by Prime Minister Nehru of India to Chinese children, was placed on public display in Peiping Sunday.

The broadcast, heard by the Associated Press in San Francisco, said Indian ambassador H. E. N. Raghavan presented the 14-year-old beast to Ting Hsi Lin, vice minister of cultural affairs in a formal ceremony.

Peiping said a new elephant house was built at the zoo to accommodate Asa — apparently accounting for the delay of several months in the elephant's arrival from Canton.

Red China's Radio Raps Proposed Big-3 Meeting

LONDON, May 31 (AP) — The Chinese Communist Peiping Peoples' daily today denounced the forthcoming Bermuda meeting of Western Powers as "detrimental to the Soviet Union."

The Red newspaper quoted by Peiping radio, said the proposed meeting between leaders of the United States, Britain and France runs counter to "the principle of settlement of international disputes through negotiation."

SNIPERS FIRE ON TRAIN

TEL AVIV, Israel, May 31 (AP) — An Israeli army spokesman declared today that Jordan snipers twice fired at Israeli trains near the frontier today.

CREATES LIFE—Scientist Stanley Miller, 23, Berkeley, Calif., is shown in the University of Chicago laboratory where, according to Dr. Harold Urey, he created organic life in an experiment. Dr. Urey, a Nobel winner and Miller's teacher, described the experiment which all life on earth evolved. Dr. Urey said Miller created conditions as "elementary"—or possibly identical to the first step from conditions believed to have existed 3,500,000,000 years ago.

Family of Four Dies In Fire-Swept Home

MERRICK, N. Y., May 31 (AP) — Four persons died today in a fire that swept through their ranch-style home. The mother was Dean, 2, found leaning over the crib of her youngest son.

The father, Archie Davis, 33, was sprawled on the floor near his bed, his hand reaching toward a telephone.

The oldest son, Glen, 6, died in his bed.

Davis' wife Rose, 33, collapsed over the crib of her dead son.

She died of shock and suffocation.

NOTICE

LOT HOLDERS—POTTSTOWN CEMETERY—EAST AND WEST EX. Due to conditions beyond our control it will be necessary on and after June 1st, 1953, to make a charge of $3 for a four-grate lot and $5 for an eight-grate lot for cutting and trimming grass each season on all those lots not having perpetual care.

Heretofore, all lots have been receiving about equal care. To eliminate this evident unfairness to perpetual care lot holders, and to build our reserve fund, which eventually will be needed to maintain the cemetery and its appearance, we reluctantly feel that this action is necessary and unavoidable.

$40,000 FIRE —

lives about a half mile from the farm on the Linfield-Schwensville road. The farm is about one mile north of Limerick.

Frankenberg, according to Miller stepped out of his house at about 10 p. m. and saw the flames pouring out of the barn.

He called the Limerick Fire company.

The Fritz' didn't know about the fire until they heard the fire whistle blow.

THEY STEPPED out of their house only to discover that their own barn was aflame.

"They were inside the house watching television," Miller said. "They couldn't see the flames because there are no windows on the side of the house that the barn is on."

Miller said the flames had probably been burning for "about 15 minutes" before the alarm was turned in.

"When we got there, and we were first on the scene, the whole thing was on fire. We knew there was no chance of saving it."

STANLEY NOVAK, chief of the Linfield fire department which also answered the call, said, "The dust, Philadelphia; and Hugh Longwell, Arizona; 17 grandchildren and six great grandchildren."

Services will be held Wednesday at the convenience of the family from a funeral home in Parkerford. The Rev. A. Burtis Hallock Jr., pastor of First Presbyterian church, will officiate.

Interment will be made in St. Michael's cemetery, Birdsboro.

"We had the fire under control after about one hour and a half but we stayed to protect the house and other buildings from sparks."

The barn was about 70 by 120 feet in size and was of frame construction.

It was located only about 100 feet from the house. All the while orange flames licked the clouds, firemen played streams on the buildings.

A SMALL SHED, about 12 feet square and used for storing a few garden tools, went down in flames before firemen arrived.

"We had all the water we needed," Miller said, "with a pond about 1200 feet away and the wind didn't bother us."

More than 50 firemen from the seven companies took part in the battle.

The companies represented were the Humane and Friendship companies from Royersford; Limerick Fire company; Linfield, Collegeville, Trappe, and Schwensville.

FRITZ HAS owned the farm for about three years, one fireman said, and had only recently remodeled the barn.

In the fire of April 11, 1952, Fritz lost the following items: two grain combines; a pickup baler; delivery rake; corn picker; two rubber tire wagons; two tractors; two disc harrows; two tractor cultivators; horse rake; mowing machine; two-horse cultivator; hand plow; tractor plow.

Besides this equipment, the blaze destroyed 25 tons of corn, 12 tons of hay and 13 tons of straw.

That fire was on the Cyrella farm, Schwensville RD 1, which Fritz had rented for the ten years previous.

Damage to the barn and equipment was estimated at that time at more than $35,000, almost $20,000 of which was suffered by Fritz.

Heavy Rains Fail to Halt Veterans' Efforts in Honoring Nation's War Dead

The heavy rains which fell over the Pottstown area over the weekend failed to dampen the spirits of various veteran's groups in their efforts to pay homage to the nation's war dead.

Locally, minus fanfare, approximately 75 members of the seven veteran's groups in town assembled at the George A. Amole Post 47.

After a brief ceremony at the postoffice in pouring rain, the group marched to the armory to hear Edward T. Hall, headmaster of The Hill school deliver the Memorial Day address.

In the Upper Perkiomen district, rain also prevented a full-scale ceremony from being held.

A small group of veterans gathered at the New Goshenhoppen church to attend services in observance of the occasion.

Meanwhile, the dedication of the new war memorial in Sanatoga was postponed because of the weather. Ceremonies were put off until next Sunday afternoon. Exact time will be announced later.

IN ADDRESSING the gathering at the armory, Hall told his audience that Memorial Day was a day that stood as a memorial to all those who have lost their lives in the defense of our country.

"It is also a day of rededication, in which we owe it to our honored dead to re-examine our principles and to make sure that we are doing our utmost to practice them," he said.

Our aim in these doubtful days is not merely to avoid another war, but rather to stand always for those principles which those whom we honor today felt were important enough to give their lives, he said.

The program opened with a call to assembly by Bugler Norman Lepperd. Selections and special music were played by the Pottstown band.

LOGANS Memorial Day order was read by Charles H. Harberger, and "Lincoln's 'Gettysburg Address'" was given by James Creswell.

Presiding officer was Emery Lord. Leonard Rachid served as chairman, and William Palladino was the officer of the day.

The Rev. Dr. Luther A. Krouse of Emmanuel Lutheran church of Pottstown offered prayer and benediction.

HEAVY RAINS —

came as no surprise to many, for traces of precipitation were felt early Friday night at about 7 o'clock, but the heavy stuff did not begin to fall until early Saturday morning.

Plans for Memorial Day services by local veteran's groups were cut down sharply, as were those of the head of the family who planned a picnic for the holiday.

Farmers throughout the area complained bitterly as the water washed away its base. Considerable damage to the walk above the wall was reported.

The Schuylkill river rose about two feet during the 24-hour period, rising from 4.51 feet Saturday morning to 6.62 yesterday morning.

Sprogel's run rose steadily for a while but the water didn't flow over banks. Perkiomen creek, on the other hand, did overflow.

OTHER CREEKS in the area were reported up but no damage was reported.

Out on the highways State police said "it was a quiet weekend." They noted that rains made driving hazardous and not as many cars were seen as were expected.

May was not only the wettest month thus far, but it helped boost the total number of degree days. Degree days this month to date are 38, and the normal degree days any heating season is 5224.

The degree day is important to the oil and coal dealers. For each day a degree day comes, along, it means that people will turn up the fire and get the house warm.

DEALERS IN THE Pottstown area are reported last night that sales have not been normal. This, they say, may be because of the comparatively mild winter.

Once the May weather is past, the dealers hope to see a rise in business.

The weather outlook for today is considerable cloudiness and somewhat warmer. Tomorrow it is expected to be partly cloudy with little change in temperature.

About 2/3 of the fatal bicycle accidents in the United States occur between May and October.

DISTEMPER —

declared last night. Dr. John B. Peterman, Schuylkill road, Kenilworth, said that only about half the dogs with the disease can be saved.

"We've used all the known cures, but they don't take hold of the disease as they formerly did," he added.

Some canines may die in three or four days after being stricken, he continued, or they may linger for eight weeks.

THE DISEASE is prevalent in the whole Pottstown area, but particularly vicious in the Birdsboro area just now, the veterinarian said.

"Dogs formerly seemed immune to distemper after five years of age," he explained, "but now we find cases where they catch it at ages all the way up to ten."

A dog with the disease may show symptoms of pneumonia and diarrhea, have sores eyes and generally a loss of appetite.

"The best way to prevent it is to have the dog vaccinated," Dr. Peterman emphasized.

"Mongrels running loose are chiefly responsible for spreading it," he said, "but any contact of a dog with anything containing the germs may cause him to come down with distemper."

HUMANS aren't susceptible to the disease, Dr. Peterman said, "but if they pet a dog with distemper they can transfer it to a healthy one."

The doctor remarked that the cool damp weather in the Pottstown area this Spring may be partly responsible for the failure of the disease to disappear.

"A hot sun and a dry spell might kill most of the germs in a hurry," he said.

"But the best thing to do for your dog right now is vaccinate," he concluded.

CHINA ASKS MORE GRAIN

HONG KONG, May 31 (AP)—The Chinese Communist regime has called upon its farmers to produce more grain and its consumers to eat less. This was to enable China to build up a grain stockpile necessary to its five year industrialization plan, according to the party newspaper, the Peiping People's Daily.

OTHER CREEKS in the area were reported up but no damage was reported.

Out on the highways State police said "it was a quiet weekend." They noted that rains made driving hazardous and not as many cars were seen as were expected.

May was not only the wettest month thus far, but it helped boost the total number of degree days. Degree days this month to date are 38, and the normal degree days any heating season is 5224.

The degree day is important to the oil and coal dealers. For each day a degree day comes, along, it means that people will turn up the fire and get the house warm.

DEALERS IN THE Pottstown area are reported last night that sales have not been normal. This, they say, may be because of the comparatively mild winter.

Once the May weather is past, the dealers hope to see a rise in business.

The weather outlook for today is considerable cloudiness and somewhat warmer. Tomorrow it is expected to be partly cloudy with little change in temperature.

AEC Will Hand Out Warning Tickets to Drivers in Test Area

LAS VEGAS, Nev., May 31 (AP) — For the first time in the Spring atomic test series—scheduled to end tomorrow with an extra, added blast, No. 11—printed slips will be handed to motorists suggesting that they park and look the other way.

Otherwise seeing the flash head-on through the windshield could cause black spots in the vision or temporary blindness, an Atomic Energy commission spokesman said.

The spokesman, Seth Waters, said the AEC would have no comment on the size or nature of the test beyond its statement of yesterday which said the shot would be a test to confirm research and development results just obtained at the Los Alamos, N. M., nuclear workshop.

Newsmen were advised to be in position to watch the blast by 3:50 a. m. This was taken to mean it would go off shortly after 4 a. m.

ABOUT AN HOUR before the test, Waters continued, sheriff's deputies will hand out the printed slips at three road blocks on Highway 95, which connects Las Vegas with Tonopah, Nev. The road blocks will be at Las Vegas; Beatty, about 150 miles northwest of Las Vegas, and at Death Valley Junction where a road joins Highway 95.

Twice before verbal warnings have been given by authorities to motorists near the test site, but this is the first time printed slips have been used.

Fine Plans to Take Action on Order Curtailing Admissions to Hospitals

HARRISBURG, May 31 (AP) — Gov. John S. Fine said tonight that he will take definite action tomorrow to reverse a State Welfare department order curtailing admissions to State hospitals.

"I am not in accord with the order, and of course, I will take definite steps to countermand it tomorrow," he told a reporter.

The order was issued by Welfare Secretary William C. Brown who described it tonight as "merely a departmental order in an effort to avoid recurrence of any deficit spending."

Gov. Fine had no comment on reports that he may drop Brown, a holdover appointee of former Governor Duff, from his cabinet. Brown said, "it has not occurred to me that anyone would suggest my resignation, when I am merely trying to do my duty."

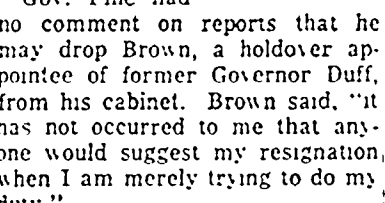

Meanwhile, the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette said flatly "Brown will be fired tomorrow." The newspaper said Fine's anger over the Brown order "also probably will sweep out of office Mr. William Dennison, former Harrisburg newspaperman, who is Mr. Brown's deputy secretary."

Brown's order limited admissions to State hospitals to emergency cases and those already scheduled for a 30 day period, beginning tomorrow.

Gov. Fine said that he expected to talk the matter over with Brown tomorrow "although no definite arrangements have been completed for the meeting."

"I did not try to reach him (Brown) today. I wanted to get at least one day's rest this weekend," the Governor said.

Brown, at his home in New London, Chester county, told the Associated Press that he had not received any communication from the Governor on the matter.

TWO CARS BURN AS CRACK TRAIN JUMPS TRACKS

At Least 36 Hurt in Wreck, But No Deaths Reported

SUPERIOR, Mont., May 31 (AP) — A crack Seattle-to-Chicago train, carrying 163 passengers, jumped the tracks near here early today and at least three dozen persons were injured as five cars skidded down a bank.

Sparks from overhead trolleys on the electrified section of the train set fire to a plush $325,000 glass-top observation car and to a day coach. Both were burned to the wheels, but everyone had escaped.

Lightninglike flashes from the trolleys sizzled around the wreckage. A trestle beneath the burning cars was afire. High tension lines along the road bed fell down.

None of the passengers on the Milwaukee railroad's Hiawatha, a streamliner that runs on electricity in this area, was believed seriously hurt although three had to be taken out in stretchers.

MOST OF THE 163 passengers were asleep as the ten-car train rolled through a valley in the Bit-terroot mountains enroute to Missoula, Mont., about 60 miles east of here.

"I was sitting up and suddenly heard this grinding noise," said S. W. Finney of Molalla, Ore., who was in the glass-top car.

"The only thing that kept us on the tracks was a light pole. We hit it."

The diner and four sleeping cars—the last five on the train—went down an embankment of about 15 feet. Passengers in their berths were tossed about. R. D. Baldwin of Morgantown, W. Va., said he was asleep in lower ten, woke up in lower nine.

Blood Shortage Hits Army Field Medics At Korean Front

TOKYO, Monday, June 1 (AP) — Medics in Korea have almost run out of whole blood to give wounded United Nations soldiers and may not have enough supplies if heavy fighting continues, Army authorities said Sunday.

The situation was declared so critical that US Army chaplains in Japan were routed from bed just after midnight Saturday and asked to appeal to their congregations for blood donations after Sunday morning services.

The emergency was caused by the sudden increase in fighting on the Western and Central fronts the past week. A laboratory technician who returned from Korea Sunday said Allied hospitals were "almost out" of blood.

An Eighth army spokesman in Korea said every man wounded in the intense fighting the past few days got all the blood he needed, but said new blood is needed to replace that used up.

THE PROTESTANT chaplain at Tokyo Chapel center, in a sermon broadcast throughout Japan, went further and said there was no blood left to treat wounded soldiers.

Capt. Ted Grisot of Texarkana, Tex., commanding officer of the Far East command blood bank, said all hospitals in Korea still have some whole blood on hand, but are "running pretty short."

Grisot co-ordinates shipments of blood from the United States.

Congressional Leaders May Travel With President to Meeting of Big-3

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP) — President Eisenhower may consider taking Senator Taft (R-Ohio) and House Speaker Martin (R-Mass) to the Big Three meeting in Bermuda in an effort to close gaps between the US and its Allies.

Senator Wiley (R-Wis) has suggested that congressional leaders be invited to the conference as observers to give them the "feel" of conditions which have resulted in open differences of free world opinion on some vital issues.

While Wiley said he has had no White House response to the suggestion, some lawmakers thought Eisenhower seemed to have such a course in mind when he said Thursday he would be delighted to take along anyone who wants to know what is going on day by day.

Some of Eisenhower's friends believe the possible presence of Taft and Martin at the conference, even as only observers, would lend weight to the Republicans' contention that their leaders are working as a team.

In any such instance, Taft would represent a faction in Congress that doesn't always see eye to eye with the President on foreign policy. But if the Ohio senator and Martin agreed on the spot with decisions made at Bermuda, Eisenhower would have reasonable assurance that Congress would approve.

other faiths in the British isles joined in devotions in which Elizabeth was the object.

Roman Catholics have begun three days of prayer which will end Monday night when mass is offered in every church in the country. Special Jewish rites will be celebrated in the synagogues Saturday.

ELIZABETH HERSELF made her devotions in the Queen's chapel at Marlborough house. She left Buckingham palace shortly after 11 a. m. She wore a dark green dress and a small hat of matching color. A diamond and amethyst brooch sparkled on her left shoulder. Her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, was with her in the car. At the chapel, they were joined by Queen Mother Elizabeth.

In addition to the regular services, special sermons were broadcast by leading clergymen in programs carried by BBC. They explained the meaning of the coronation, analyzing its many aspects. The ancient ceremony is largely religious in nature.

SON BEGS IKE TO SPARE PARENTS

NEW YORK, May 31 (AP) — The young son of convicted atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg has asked President Eisenhower to "let my mommy and daddy go."

The committee to secure justice in the Rosenberg case announced today.

The committee said the letter was written May 20 by ten-year-old Michael Rosenberg before the US Supreme court rejected a last appeal to set aside a death sentence for his parents.

The committee said it had obtained a copy of the letter from Michael. The letter was made public here today by the committee.

The text of the Rosenberg boy's letter:

"DEAR PRESIDENT EISENHOWER:

"I saw on television on Monday Mr. Oatis is not in prison anymore because the president of the country let him go. It said his wife wrote a letter to the president over there and she told why Mr. Oatis should be let go. I think it is a good thing to let him go home because I think prison is a very bad place for anybody to be.

"My mommy and daddy are in prison in New York. My brother is six years old. His name is Robby. He misses them very much and I miss them, too. I got the idea to write you from Mr. Oatis on television. Please let my mommy and daddy go and not let anything happen to them. If they come home Robby and I will be very happy and we will thank you very much.

"Very truly yours,

"Michael Rosenberg."

"BUTTONS" help us give telephone service that's high in value—low in cost

The "buttons" we are talking about are those frequently used to speed out-of-town telephone calls on their way. In many places operators now dial out-of-town calls direct. You give the number of the telephone you want—perhaps in far-off San Francisco—and swiftly punching a set of buttons much like those on an adding machine, the operator "dials" that telephone! In seconds you are talking to the person you want. The name for this is Operator Toll Dialing. Over-all, it cuts in half the time it takes to make an out-of-town call!

Your telephone company is constantly seeking new ways to make telephone service better and to keep the cost of service low. Sometimes the new ways come after months of scientific research and development. Sometimes they come in the form of a suggestion from an employee or a customer. But you can be sure of this, if it will do a better job, the new way soon becomes the regular way.

Rhee Calls ROK Cabinet Into Session, Reported Drafting Reply to President

MUNSAN, MONDAY, June 1 (AP)—President Syngman Rhee summoned the South Korean cabinet to what was called a "crisis session" over the truce talks today after reportedly drafting a reply to a message from President Eisenhower.

ROK PROMISES TO FIGHT ALONE IF LEFT DIVIDED

South Korean Envoy Says Such a Truce Would Be Short-Sighted

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP) — Korean ambassador You Chan Yang said today South Korea will "go it alone" if a truce is reached that leaves his country divided.

He said on an NBC television interview that an American attempt to force compliance with any such truce would be "tragic and short-sighted." He added that he hopes there is no possibility of any such attempt.

With impassive face, but emotion evident in his voice, he asked a questioner:

"When a thief comes and kills your wife and family, do you punish him, or do you just tell him 'Stay over there'?"

QUESTIONED ABOUT a South Korean request for a mutual defense pact with the US, however, he said that if a truce leaves Korea divided "the US must give us some form of security."

Ambassador Yang pointed out that both the US and the United Nations are on record as favoring a united Korea. Agreement on anything less, he argued, would cause them to lose face. He said it would mean that the Communists have "definitely won the war."

Many nations in Asia are wavering between East and West, he went on, and a truce that leaves Korea divided would enable Russia and its satellites to tell them:

"The great USA and 17 members of the United Nations couldn't even defeat little North Korea. What do you expect from them? Come with us."

Questioned closely by reporters on a panel program, the ambassador acknowledged that South Korea has small capabilities for resisting the Communists by itself.

The South Korean move came on the heels of a request by the Communist high command Sunday for an additional three day delay in the talks which had been scheduled to resume this morning at Panmunjom.

The UN command quickly agreed to extend the current recess until Thursday but the South Korean member of the Allied delegation announced he would continue his unprecedented boycott of the talks.

An air of crisis hung over the truce negotiations and bitter charges were flying in two directions.

Major Gen. Choe Duk Shun, the Korean UN truce representative, in a statement at Seoul charged the senior Allied truce delegate, Lt Gen William K Harrison Jr., with being "not sincere" and said he would remain away from the Panmunjom negotiations until the UN withdraws or changes the latest Allied truce offer to the Reds.

Harrison declined comment when advised of Choe's statement.

The Peiping radio, fishing in troubled waters, broke an unusual silence Sunday night and denounced the South Korean government for violating "the secrecy" of Monday's armistice meeting at Panmunjom.

It was the first mention by Peiping of the Allied counter-plan.

The Red broadcast said "serious attention" must be paid to the fact that "the Syngman Rhee bloc openly violated the secrecy of the executive sessions by divulging the contents of the new American proposal and the contents of the executive session" itself.

THE BROADCAST, quoting an editorial in the Peiping Peoples daily, gave no indication of the Red stand on the new proposal.

Masons, Veterans Join in Church Worship Here

Rev. Buller Speaks At Services Noling Two Annual Events

Second Baptist church members shared their pews with members of Masonic orders and veterans organizations yesterday as they participated in rites marking two annual events.

Morning services in the church were devoted to Memorial Day, and the sixth annual Esther Day program took place in the afternoon.

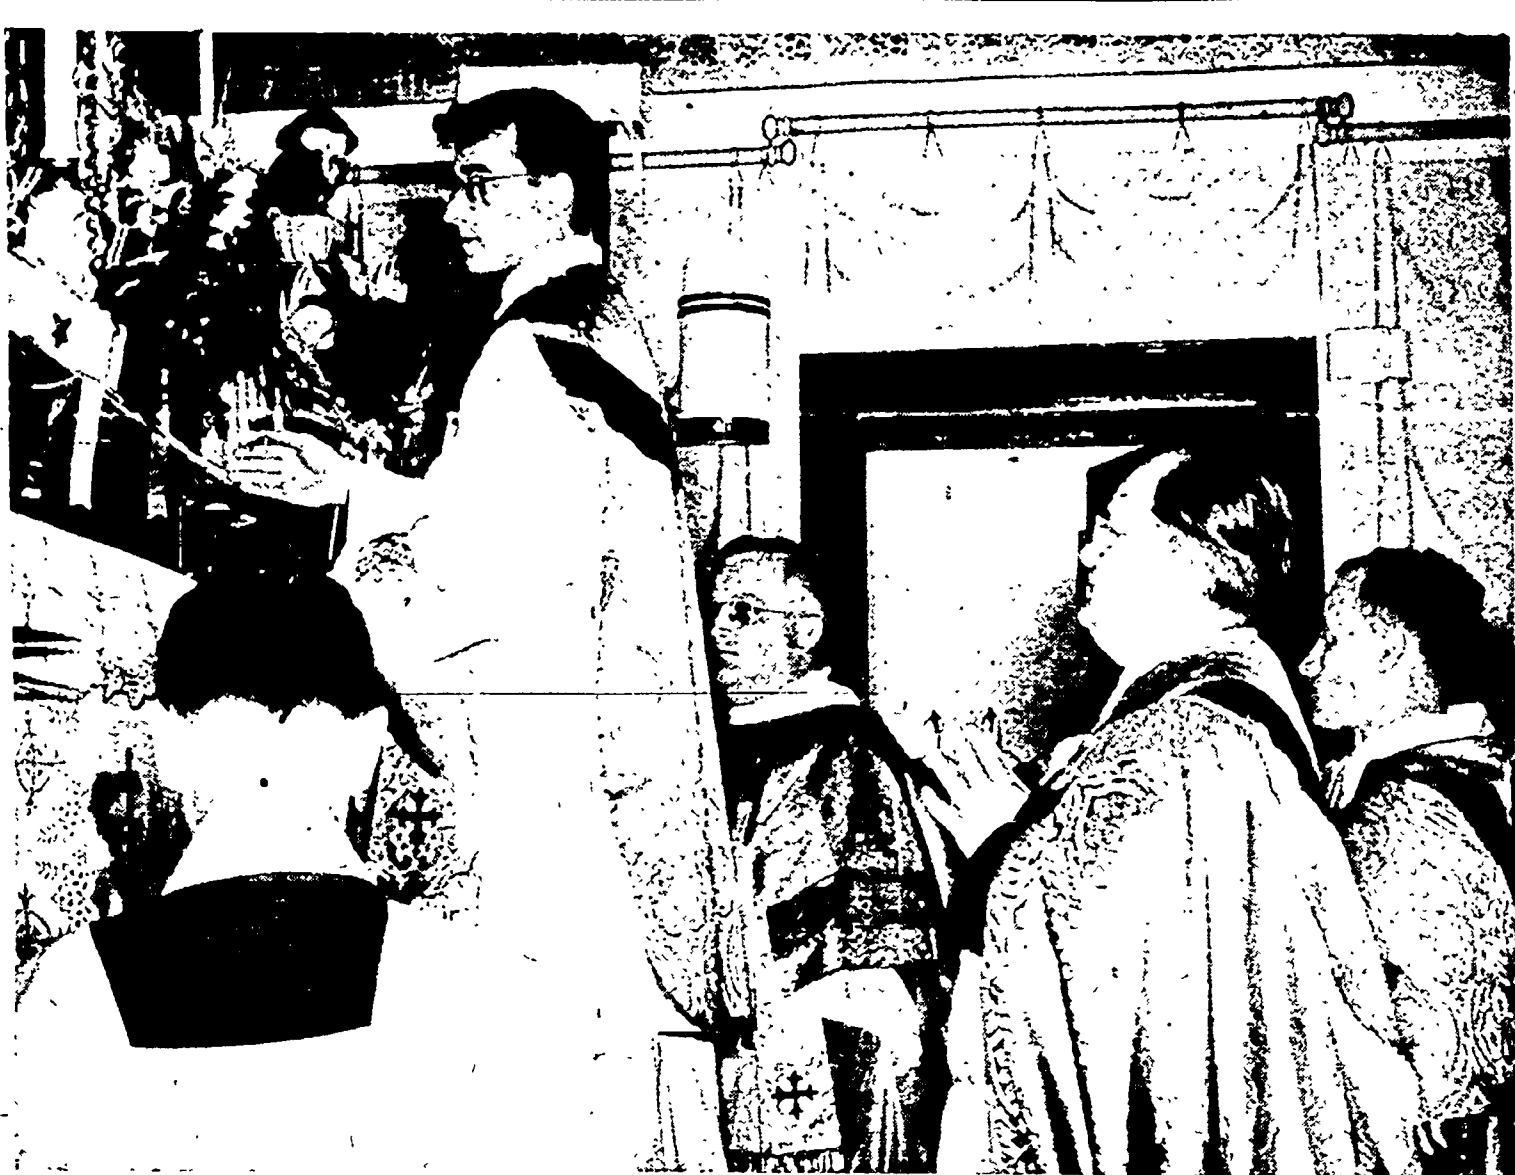

Veterans groups represented at the morning service included Milton Simms Post 953, George A. Amole Post 47 and Harriet L. Kulp Post 759, American Legion.

The afternoon observance, held by the Third District Order of the Eastern Star of Pennsylvania, was attended by members of Stichter Lodge 251 and Keystone Lodge 113 F and AM, as well as visitors from the Masonic lodge in Reading.

The Rev. Heywood L. Buller, pastor of Second Baptist, was speaker at both morning and afternoon services. At the afternoon service the Rev. George Jones, assistant pastor of the church, read the Scripture and offered prayer.

The Rev. Jones also officiated and preached the sermon at the regular evening service in the church last night in the absence of the Rev. Buller, who was guest speaker at baccalaureate services in the local high school.

"Blessed are the dead who died in the Lord," was the text of the memorial service in the morning.

Guest Speaker Rev. Keppen Tells of Fellowship's Purpose

"The Purpose of Fellowship" was the topic of a special sermon delivered by the Rev. Harold Keppen, Spring City, at the First Church of the Brethren last night.

The recently-ordained young pastor, who has been supplying the Brethren charge in Norristown for the past month, spoke here in the absence of the Rev. Ralph R. Frey, regular pastor of the church. Reason for the Rev. Frey's absence was the baccalaureate service at the Senior High school, in which his daughter Anna, a member of the graduating class was participating.

The Rev. Keppen told the evening worshippers at the church that Christians should prove the need of fellowship, make perfect the purpose of it, and then practice it.

Special music was presented at the service by Audrey George, Quakertown, who played several marimba solos.

Anna Reigner and Marion Schneider sang a duet "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," at morning worship in Zion's Reformed yesterday.

Acolyte at the service was David Horrocks. Flowers on the altar were the gift of "a friend."

Trinity Evangelical's bulletin is sponsored by Mrs. Albert Rath this week.

The Rev. George F. Eichorn, pastor of St. John's Lutheran, South Pottstown, observed his second anniversary at that charge yesterday.

The youthful pastor came to St. John's immediately after being ordained at Trinity Lutheran, Reading.

During his stay at the Main street church, it became an independent charge, having previously been a mission church.

Young adults of Searles Methodist will meet at the church for a treasure hunt on Saturday night at 8 o'clock.

Barbara and Dolores Noll led the MYF worship at First Methodist last night.

Dr. Robert McCleod Campbell, pastor of First Presbyterian church, Reading, for 20 years and now retired, was guest speaker at First Presbyterian here yesterday.

He spoke on the topic "Peace of God," at the 11 a. m. worship service.

Trinity Bible class placed the flowers on the altar at Trinity Reformed yesterday.

Mrs. Russell Wendling will be host to Salem EUB's ladies aid at 8 o'clock Thursday night at her home.

Mrs. Robert D. Scheffey, Mrs. Richard C. Overdorf and Mrs. George Sterner served in the nursery at Transfiguration Lutheran yesterday morning.

First Baptist's Gnosis class will meet at the home of Doris Stein tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Joseph Klink will be hostess to the ladies Bible class of Emmanuel Lutheran tonight. The class will hold at 6:30 o'clock picnic supper at her home.

Another picnic will be held tomorrow night by the Women's Missionary society of St. James Lutheran at the home of Mrs. John Tyson. Time here is also 6:30 o'clock.

Altar flowers at Baltzell EUB yesterday were given by Mrs. Hugh Frame in honor of her husband's birthday.

Members of the Baltzell church will journey to Quincy on Thursday for the 50th anniversary and graduation exercises of their church-sponsored orphanage. They will leave the church by bus at 6 a. m. and probably return to Pottstown at 8 p. m.

The Reformed league of St. Pauls Reformed, Walnut and Penn streets, will meet tomorrow night. Meeting time is set for 8 p. m.

Altar flowers at St. Peter's Lutheran, Stowe, yesterday were

Crowd Stands in Rain To Watch Unveiling Of Lincoln Marker

HANOVER JUNCTION, May 31 (P)—Several thousand persons stood in the rain today to watch the unveiling of a historical marker as part of a three-day Lincoln celebration in this small York county community.

Helen Nicolay, 87, of Washington, daughter of Abraham Lincoln's secretary, John G. Nicolay, lifted a cloth from the marker designating the site of the former Hanover junction railroad.

The marker, placed by the Pennsylvania Historical Museum association, noted that Lincoln changed trains here on Nov. 18, 1863, on his trip to Gettysburg to deliver the Gettysburg address.

It also mentions that some 15,000 soldiers wounded at Gettysburg were transferred to hospitals on trains using the junction and that the town was a major military telegraph point during the Civil War.

Rain throughout the afternoon forced other parts of a special ceremony to be held inside the Seven Valley's Community hall, a mile from here.

NORMAN E. HOWARD, commander of the newly-reactivated Milton Simms Post, read the names of the honored dead—all former members of the post.

Others who spoke briefly at the service included Laura Trexler and Mrs. Henry Williams.

Special music included a vocal solo by Mrs. Minnie Sutton and the playing of taps at the close of the service by Richard Gray Sr.

The Esther Day program at 3 p. m. opened with a procession to the music of "Onward Christian Soldiers," and a selection by the 35-voice young people's choir of the second Baptist church.

Laura Forbes, grand deputy of the Third district, introduced Lillian Taylor, who acted as mistress of ceremonies.

The welcoming-address was given by Mary Banks and the response by Pattee Miller.

GREETINGS were extended during the program from each of the six Eastern Star chapters and Masonic lodges of the Third district.

Others who spoke during the program included Leroy Oliver, who introduced the Rev. Butler; Nellie V. Holsey, past grand deputy of the district, who gave remarks; and Annie Smith, who made the presentations.

Music included a duet by Lillian Taylor and Margaret Johnson and a solo by Lillian Carson.

The Third Masonic district includes Pottstown's Keystone Chapter 87, of which Mary Banks is worthy matron; and Mizpah Chapter 11, Wilkes-Barre; Charlotte Scott Chapter 31, Scranton; Harriet Tubman Chapter 64, Easton; Sarah Jackson Chapter 74, Reading; Mt. Nebo Chapter 78, Pottsville; and Virginia E. Holland Chapter 86, Bethlehem.

Circus Attendants Find Rhino Dead

BALTIMORE, May 31 (P)—Robert, 8-year-old two-horned African rhinoceros, was found dead in his flat car cage today as the Ringling Brothers circus arrived here for a two-day stand.

Attendants said Robert, ranked as a "robust teenager" in the rhino world caught a bad cold during the circus' Washington engagement two weeks ago and had been ailing ever since.

Pneumonia and tropical dysentery were blamed for the demise of the 2500-pound youngster, they said.

Circus officials offered Robert's remains to Johns Hopkins university for study. But Hopkins spokesmen said they weren't interested, so Robert was carted off to the incinerator by an Animal Disposal company.

Non-Strategic Trade With Reds May Push Peace, Stassen Says

WASHINGTON, May 31 (P)—Mutual Security Director Harold E. Stassen said today that trade in non-strategic materials between the free world and Communist countries "may be one of the factors that ultimately leads to a better position in prospect for peace."

He thus differed sharply with Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) who has sought to halt all trade with Communist China. Stassen expressed his views on a radio-television program.

Asked whether there was a basis for agreement between the Administration's views and those of McCarthy's Senate Investigations subcommittee, he said "I have not heard of any position taken by the subcommittee as yet," and added that the official view of Congress "will undoubtedly be taken by future congressional action."

Such action to date, he noted, has been to ban only trade in strategic materials. Representative Battle (D-Ala), author of that measure, questioned Stassen about the subject during the program.

Stassen agreed that shipment of strategic materials to Communist-dominated countries should be banned, and other nations have joined the United States in trying to do that, he said.

How shall I be able to rule over others, that have not full power and command of myself?—Francis Rabelais.

Wars Mean Industrial Loss

THE official communist "line" often undergoes dizzying shifts and variations. But there is one Bolshevik tenet which has been as firm as Gibraltar since the days of Marx.
That is the doctrine that wars are always encouraged, started and maintained by capitalists and the owners and managers of big business, for personal gain. These male-factors, communism holds, are always grudgingly eager to exchange the lives of the masses for more dollars with which to line their pockets.

A good many non-communist people either believe that, or think there is at least considerable truth in it.

Therefore, some recent remarks by the chairman of one of our very biggest businesses which is a cornerstone of war production, seem to deserve wide distribution.

Speaking at a stockholders' meeting, Benjamin Fairless of US Steel declared categori-cally that this company "has never prospered from America's participation in war."

Further, he said, it has taken "a financial beating from the moment our country entered the conflict."

He cited figures to prove this.
In 1941, US Steel had profits of $115,000.
Heavy drops occurred as soon as we entered the war.

In 1945, when the war effort was at a peak, profits sank to $58,000,000—less than half of the '41 figure.

When peace returned, a strong upward trend set in, and $215,000,000 was earned in 1950.

Then the Korean conflict swung into high gear, as did the rearmament program generally, and profits fell to $184,000,000 in 1951 and to $143,000,000 in 1952.

Why should great companies find war financially less profitable than peace?
The Wall Street Journal provided an answer in these words:

"The reasons are clear. During wartime, production increases enormously, but so do payrolls, taxes and government controls. . . . It is not a normal expansion with all the economic factors that should govern a company's safe growth taken into account. . . . Fairless spoke for more than his company when he said that there is no profit in war."

An equally significant and interesting view came from another man who can speak from experience and authority—Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange.

American business does not want war, he said, "whether it's a hot war or a cold war or any bastard offspring of war."

He then went into what caused the fall in stock prices following the Kremlin's latest peace offensive. The market, he noted, will always respond to shock treatment—whether it's the danger of war or the hope of peace, a political upheaval or a labor crisis.

It is a matter of record that, when the Korean war broke out stock prices slumped much more severely than they did this year.

Business' general attitude toward war and peace is probably reflected in one more observation of Mr. Funston's.

After pointing out that in the 164 years since Washington was president we have been at war about 10 percent of the time and at peace about 90 percent of the time, he said:

"We did not build a great country because of those years we were at war—but in spite of them. . . . My conviction is that the vast majority of Americans are too intelligent and too well-informed to permit even the most skillful propagandist to beguile them into believing that American business is so intent on self-destruction that it prefers war to peace."

Times Move Fast

PEOPLE are still alive who were children when the work of the farm was carried on solely with crude hand tools and human and animal power. The mechanization of agriculture began only a little more than a century ago.

In that century, a long list of ever-more-efficient machines have been devised and produced—machines which do the farm tasks swiftly and economically, which have enormously increased the farmer's productivity, and which make it possible for him to improve and protect his land for future generations.

Yes, the times have moved fast—and nowhere have they moved faster than on the farm!

The driver of a massive tractor-trailer truck miraculously escaped injury yesterday morning when the truck shot off the road in Limerick township, plowed up 14 guard rails and rammed through a utility pole. ## Cow Leads This Bull Around by the Nose

LE HAVRE, France, May 31 (P)—As any mystery story reader knows, a French detective must "chercher la femme" to find the killer.

French stockyard workers discovered that the slogan can be applied for enticing a victim, too. As a bull was being led into a slaughterhouse in the town of Honfleur, it broke away, and did considerable damage in a public park and vegetable gardens. As police prepared to kill the animal with a machine gun, a local butcher had a better idea. A cow was brought around, and the bull meekly followed back to the slaughterhouse.

1953 Election Forgotten, But $25 Is Saved

BREWSTER, Neb., May 31 (P)—It was purely an oversight, an official explained, but this incorporated village of 69 persons forgot to hold its 1953 town election recently. It made little difference, a spokesman for the city fathers said. There were no contests for offices and the old members of the village board will carry on for another year. Save about $25 in election expense, too, the spokesman said. Petroleum as it comes from the ground varies in color from black to water-clear.

End of 'Confusion' on VA Cuts Sought

WASHINGTON, May 31 (P)—Rep. Teague (D-Tex.) said today the House Veterans committee will attempt this week to end "confusion" over possible effects of budget cuts on veterans hospital and medical programs for next year. The committee has summoned officials of the Veterans administration before it Wednesday for questioning on reports that a 279 million dollar slash in the VA budget means closing of six or more hospitals. These reports have been denied by the VA. At the same time, there were reports that the House Appropriations committee would restore part of the cut to prevent curtailment of hospital and medical service. House sources close to the situation said the restoration probably would be made by cutting down on funds for special services to veterans, and turning the savings over to the VA medical branch. THE PUBLIC HEALTH service announced, meanwhile, that it would no longer continue to treat veterans in public health service sanitariums and hospitals because the VA is stopping reimbursement for the cost of veterans care. Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele said the health service has been reimbursed by the VA for a daily average of 375 veteran patients. He said that some of the beds vacated "through the withdrawal of veteran patients" will be made available to other tuberculosis sufferers. The health service also announced it was closing down its tuberculosis hospital at Ft. Stanton, N. M., because of curtailment of operating funds. Ft. Stanton patients will be transferred to other hospitals.

WEED RULES —

realized, the sanitation committee met a week ago with the burgess to discuss the situation. The burgess promised at that time that he would appeal to his brother to clean up the lot and 20 "even farther" than the recommendations made by the fire chief, fire marshal and health officer.

AWARE of the failures in the present weed ordinance, which was drawn up in 1912 but which had rarely, if ever, been enforced, the committee members decided to hold another meeting to "put teeth in the ordinance."

Burgess Griffith launched Friday night's meeting by saying that the present 48 hours allowed a person to clean up his lot was not long enough.

He also suggested that "it doesn't seem right to act on individual complaints. The borough should be taken in sections and cleaned that way. Acting on complaints of weeds is unfair because there may be lots that are in much worse condition than those complained about."

Kohler objected to referrals to the "weed cutting" ordinance.

"Weeds are only one phase of it, burgess," he started. This is more widespread than weeds. And we shouldn't be kicking these cases around the way we do. The Price and Morris street case or junk lot has been kicked around too much. The opinions of the fire marshal and the health officer about the lot differed a lot from ours. And the people down there weren't satisfied with the results. "We need a law that is enforced, and that gives people what they want," he said.

HE SUGGESTED that one man has to be responsible for the enforcement and that the ordinance should include everything that's a general menace to health. Later in the meeting, the burgess said:

"I agree that my brother should clean up that lot. I'm giving him ten days from last Friday (a week ago Friday) and if the fire marshal and health officer find the condition unsatisfactory then they'll swear out the information to a magistrate."

The committee members agreed with the burgess that the 48-hour period was too short. After various suggestions were made, the group settled on the ten-day period as a suitable one.

THEN KOHLER said, "I think we need higher fines, too." "The fine should be high enough so that it would make people think," chairman John S. Frain agreed.

"Well, you make the law and I'll enforce it," the burgess said. "We'll insist that you enforce it," Kohler replied. "We enforced all that came into my office last year," the burgess answered him.

Later, Kohler made a motion that the fines be raised from the present $5 and $25 limits to $25 and $125, depending on the violation.

Griffith asked if there shouldn't also be something included about the number of times weeds should be cut during a Summer.

THE COMMITTEE agreed it should be included. One suggestion was that two advertisements be made, one in May and one in August. It will probably be included in the ordinance.

Councilman Paul Marshall brought out that the committee wanted to build up the personal pride of the people.

"We don't want to force them to cut weeds. We want them to do it because of community pride." "You'll never develop good will by putting a penalty on a man," the burgess brought out, in reference to the increase in fines.

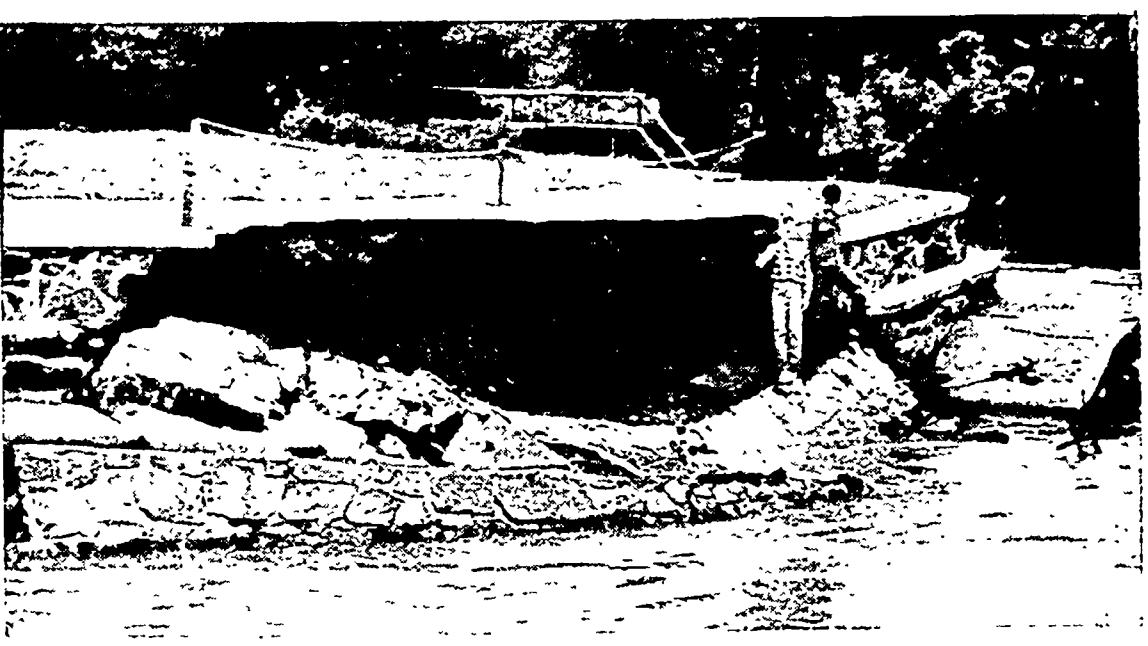

Kohler suggested the size of the fine be left to the borough solicitor.

The final problem came when Kohler called for an "all inclusive" law. "Not only weeds. The ordinance should include everything that is a menace to health and that is unsightly."

GRIFFITH pointed out that this would be difficult because of the overlapping of the word "menace."

He cited the case of a concrete mixer, which might be unsightly. "But what are you going to call it, Paul. You can't call it a health menace. And it's not a fire menace. And supposing the zoning laws say it's all right for the man to have a concrete mixer on his property."

The committee men argued the point but Kohler insisted that the ordinance be against

Nice to Be President, If You Like Coffee

WASHINGTON, Ia., May 31 (P)—Here's a club with more than 1000 members — and every single one of them a past president. It's the Washington Coffee club whose top officer serves for one day only — and never seeks re-election.

The club has past presidents throughout Iowa and even in several foreign countries. Any stranger who can be persuaded to attend a meeting is a cinch to be elected president. Fifty to 100 members of the organization gather at 10 a. m. each weekday, drink a cup of coffee, elect a president and adjourn. The president's sole and unavoidable responsibility is to pick up the check for everybody's coffee.

Wet Weather Causes Circus Here To Change Location; Schedule Is Same

Wet grounds caused the Kelly-Morris circus to change its location from the field at the rear of the Pottstown hospital to a field at the Water basin, Washington Run and Warren street.

The weather, however, did not dampen the spirits of circus personnel. Performances will go on today as scheduled. Matinee will start at 3:30 p. m. and the evening performance, at 8 p. m.

The attraction is being sponsored by the Good Will Fire company.

After many months of travel and scouting for circus talent, William Morris, ex-topnotch acrobat and Bernice Kelly, ex-queen of the tightwire, have selected and assembled what is considered the absolute climax to all circus performances.

Featured in the 1953 lineup of acts is Capt. Eddie Kuhn, America's new king of the wild animal trainers, with his mixed group of performing lions, tigers, pumas, leopards and bears. These natural enemies of the jungle perform together and as a climax they are joined in the big cage by a wire-walking goat.

OTHER FEATURE acts include "Sharleena" and her panthers, Snyder and the Kelly-Morris Palomino Liberty Horse troupe, the Moreen troupe, world's fastest teeterboard act, featuring 35 tricks in three minutes and performing a triple somersault from the teeterboard to the shoulders, two groups of performing elephants, including Big Blanche, the largest elephant in the world.

Before the show begins, the menagerie will be on public display.

It includes animals from the five continents of the world. Included are llamas from the South American Andes, the American bison, water buffalo from the Orient, camels from Arabia, zebras, a four-ton hippopotamus, lions and other rare beast of burden — the animals from Africa and the ponies from the Holy Land.

Big Blanche, who weighs 11,000 pounds and is the largest elephant in the world, is an old-timer in show business.

ONCE IN a while when one of the trucks or cars get stuck in the mud or sand one of the elephants is brought over to push it out. Not every elephant can do this as each must be taught to push the car or truck without smashing in the body of the vehicle.

But Big Blanche has acquired special talents along this line. More than once, she's successfully pushed a stuck vehicle from the mud, circus officials report.

The hippopotamus, a four-ton herbivorous mammal, is the paradox of the animal world. Contrary to belief, this monster cannot live for long out of water.

Its body weight being too much for the strength in its legs, it can only stay out of water long enough to find its food. Special handling and care are necessary to all circus animals, but the blood sweating hippo is the most demanding of them all, circus officials say.

"THE WINDOW is like a Pullman window," H. Bert Shaw, co-manager said last night. "Did you ever try to open a Pullman window? That's how far they got."

Like Bill, Bainbridge in Limerick had just taken over the management of his station.

"I was in business only seven weeks," he said.

State police of the Jeffersonville sub-station investigated the Limerick break while Patrolman Thomas Corum of the Pottstown police department conducted the preliminary investigations of the borough burglaries and attempted burglary.

Plainclothesman Lewis Borgiet will follow up the investigations.

HOLIDAY THEFTS —

the thieves—she claimed there were two men—ran from the front of the station, hopped into a car and headed towards Limerick.

She described the car as being a blue 1951 Ford sedan.

THE THIEVES had smashed in a double pane of glass in the front door of the station but were frightened by Mrs. Bainbridge before they could get inside.

"They must have used a wrench or a hammer to break that window in," Bainbridge said. "My wife said it was a loud crash."

Stanley Bill isn't sure how the thieves entered his station.

"It might have been through a back window or the back door. Or they might have used a key to come in the front door," he said, disgustedly.

BILL NOTICED the theft Saturday morning when he opened up the station. He looked up his place at 11:30 Friday night.

On Saturday morning he started assembling the tires that he uses daily for an outside display.

"I always include one white sidewall," he said.

He couldn't locate the white-rimmed tire.

He began looking around his shop and discovered that not only the white one was missing but eight others, along with four tubes and two rear view mirrors.

"I noticed that the back door was open about one inch and that a window in the back was unlocked," he said.

"I DON'T KNOW how they got in. They might have used a key and come in the front door," he added.

They didn't walk in the front door at Kinckiner's High street station.

"They broke in a panel in the back door," Kinckiner said.

The door was made of wood. The manager thinks the crime was committed Saturday night although he was away from his station from 10:45 o'clock Friday night until 6:45 a. m. yesterday, when he discovered the burglary.

There was no cash on the premises but thieves broke open the cigarette machine.

"I'M NOT SURE yet what else they might have taken because I haven't taken inventory yet."

The manager said that he would take inventory today to find out if any merchandise had been stolen.

"It's a nice anniversary present," he said. "I opened this station just five years ago today."

The thieves didn't have as much luck at the Buckwalter and Shaw station.

They broke open a rear window near the handle but couldn't get you under a thousand fresh obligations to love and serve him.

"YOU NOW STAND on the threshold of a new period of life, would you enter it without God?" he asked.

As a guiding point he explained that the graduates let this day be distinguished by the surrender of themselves to Him who cries, "My son give Me thine heart."

If this is accomplished, the Rev. Butler said, "then you will begin this new period of life with every advantage His presence and favor can afford."

"It is God's invitation to you and will thou now not of this time cry unto Him, My Father Thou art the Guide of my youth."

Prior to the recessional which closed the program, the benediction was offered by the Rev. Ebbert.

Directing the Scarles choir was Mrs. Ruth Emory. Organist was Mrs. Rohland Dorang.

Committee in charge of the baccalaureate service was: the Rev. Martin J. Brinton, chairman, the Rev. Laurence T. Beers and the Rev. Edgar M. Cooper. Leading the processional were Marlene Lambert and MaryJo Czarck, junior pupils.

Today, only about 12 percent of US automobiles sold are painted black although it formerly was a favorite color for cars and as late as 1948 was used on 25 percent of the new cars.

"They're amazing."

AS EXAMPLES he mentioned the exposed pipes in the ceiling so attractively camouflaged it's hard even to realize they're there; the all-glass walls of the secretariat, and the front of the assembly building, which looks like marble but actually is frosted glass treated photographically.

An old standby that was a pleaser was the Statue of Liberty.

"Which I, like a fool, went to the top of," Lamb commented. Miss Elicker's leg muscles helped her remember the number of steps they climbed—168.

All the Seniors contacted said they were delighted with the class's decision to go to New York rather than Washington, D. C.

Miss Shellenberger said, "Personally, I think it's nicer to go to New York. There's more to see there, and it's true that many of us see Washington on the drill-team trips."

MISS SHELLENBERGER also filed a thoughtful minority report by singling out St. Patrick's cathedral and the Church of St. John the Divine as two of the most memorable things she'd seen.

Lamb is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Lamb Sr. Miss Elicker, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude A. Elicker; Miss Shellenberger, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Shellenberger; and Gilliland, the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Gilliland.

Pray for Conversion Of Russia, Catholics Urged by Speaker

Catholics should pray more for the conversion of Russia, 300 men and women were told at the annual Ave Maria breakfast at Maria Assunta hall yesterday morning.

The challenge to prayer was given by John M. Haffert, Catholic author and leader of the Our Lady of Fatima movement.

His talk following the 9:30 a. m. Communion breakfast was sponsored jointly by Father Bally council 1192, Knights of Columbus, and Post 1683, Catholic War Veterans.

Haffert based his message on the Miracle of Our Lady of Fatima, in which it was predicted that Russia would be converted.

SPEAKING FOR one hour, the visiting lecturer told of his annual visits to the shrine in Portugal that is associated with the miracle.

He said that he had been a witness to miracles of healing at the shrine.

Paul Marchek introduced the speaker and W. O. Smith served as master of ceremonies at the breakfast.

The Rev. Michael Leo Walsh, assistant rector of St. Aloysius Catholic church, pronounced the benediction. Vocal music was presented by the St. Aloysius choir under Marchek's direction.

The breakfast was preceded by mass and Holy Communion at Holy Trinity Catholic church.

Church Announces Transfers of Four Area Clergymen

Four transfers of clergy in Pottstown area Catholic churches have been announced by the office of the Most Rev. John F. O'Hara, archbishop of Philadelphia.

Among those to be transferred is the Rev. James G. O'Malley who will be assistant rector, pro tem., at St. Mary's church, Phoenixville.

Father O'Malley served as assistant rector at the Church of St. Vincent de Paul in Minersville.

The Rev. Francis J. Gaughan, assistant pastor of St. Patrick's church, Norristown, will go to St. Patrick's church, Philadelphia.

TO GRADUATE — Lawrence Harvey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harvey, 958 Hale street, will be graduated from Albright college, Reading, Sunday. Harvey will receive a bachelor of science degree in economics.

"I must therefore decline the honor of the nomination."

AN INFORMED political source said last night that the men next in line for nomination as a result of the write-in votes would be Earl J. Reidenouer and H. Clifford Creswell, in that order.

Both of them are serving their last years of their terms. They and Victor J. Roberts, a third Democrat whose term expires this year, did not seek renomination.

Personality Draws Cash

PITTSBURGH, May 31 (AP)—Boykin Gibson, who has served many celebrities during his 25 years as a hotel doorman, sums up the tipping situation like this:

"If in some intangible way you touch people's hearts, you touch their pocketbooks. Actually, it's personality more than service that brings the hand out of the pocket."

Minister Celebrates Golden Anniversary

More than 500 well-wishers attended a golden anniversary reception for the Rev. Dr. Calvin M. DeLong, pastor of Old Goshenhoppen Reformed church, East Greenville, in the church social room yesterday afternoon.

A profusion of flowers filled the corners and decorated the walls of the reception room.

The veteran pastor's 50th year at the same charge was symbolized by a multi-tiered anniversary cake.

Gifts of appreciation included a purse presented to the pastor's wife during the reception and two cash gifts for Dr. DeLong.

Fireman Puls Head Into Cement Mixer

DALLAS, May 31 (AP)—A man who stuck his head into a concrete mixer got it out again in one piece.

Kenneth Scarborough, 27, a city fireman, was helping a relative pour cement on his day off yesterday. Finished, he turned a hose on the machine, and thrust his head between the mixer and the gravel hopper to see that all the cement had been flushed out.

His body must have brushed against the control lever, because the pincers-shaped hopper closed on his head. Within seconds someone—Scarborough doesn't know who—released the lever. The prompt action probably saved his life.

While receiving hospital treatment the fireman, a member of the rescue squad, said he'd answered many calls from persons indifferent to safety practices, but agreed his own experience could top the list of things not to do.

Joan Mayer and Henry R. Clay Exchange Wedding Vows in Church

White flowers—gladiolas, pom-poms and asters—decked the altar before which Joan Elizabeth Mayer and Henry R. Clay exchanged wedding promises in a Saturday afternoon ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwell Mayer, 451 Spruce street, are the parents of the bride. The groom is the son of Jennie T. Clay, 51 Walnut street.

Officiating at the double ring service, held in Grace Lutheran church, was the Rev. Edgar S. crown Jr., pastor.

Soloist was Mrs. William Muddell, and Florence Erb played the organ. Nuptial musical selections included "O Perfect Love," "The Lord's Prayer" and "I Love Thee".

Given in marriage by her father, a bride wore white chintilly lace and tulle over satin.

Princess style, her lace bodice was topped with a pleated mandarin collar, embroidered with pearls. Its sleeves were long and tapered and its sheer yoke was shirred.

Beneath the fitted waist, the gown's bouffant skirts of tulle were appliqued with motifs in lace and extended into a full, court train.

Pearls and pleated tulle adorned the bride's fitted calot headpiece, from which cascaded her fingertip veil of illusion net.

She carried atop a white prayer-book a white orchid, tied with satin streamers.

Maid of honor was Sally Lou Mayer, a sister of the bride.

Sky blue was the shade of her taffeta and net gown, which featured a scalloped, off the shoulders neckline.

Beneath its princess style, fitted bodice, spread a bouffant skirt with a scalloped redingote and tiers of net descending from the waist and widened with a hoop.

She wore matching mitts, with a blue open crown of fitted tulle decorated with tiny flowers.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Stanley Stolar, Aileen Mensel and Pansy Ruth Clay.

Gowned in a style identical to the honor maid, they wore frocks of aqua, pink and yellow, with matching calots and mitts.

Junior bridesmaid was another sister of the bride, Marilyn Mayer. Her gown of lilac lace and net was cut with a sweetheart neckline and puffed sleeves of lace, with a tulle insert and bertha.

Tiered net skirts, worn over matching taffeta, were waltz length and cascaded from the fitted princess bodice.

Crowning her head was an open calot of matching lilac, as were her mitts.

All of the bride's attendants carried bouquets of carnations mingled with lily.

Best man for the service was Paul Shaner.

Ushers were Stanley Stolar, William Neil and John Hallman.

Following the wedding, a reception in the Eagles home was attended by more than 300 guests.

To take her place in the receiving line, the bride's mother was attired in a gown of pale blue French voile with white accessories and an orchid corsage.

Also corsaged with an orchid was the mother of the groom, who chose a frock of light melon voile with accessories in white.

Niagara Falls and Canada is the honeymoon destination of the newlyweds, and the bride, to travel, changed to a blue suit with accessories of navy and white.

Upon their return the Clays will make their home at 156 Spruce street.

Graduated from Pottstown High school in 1950, the bride is employed in the shipping office of Eresstone Tire and Rubber company.

Her husband, a 1947 graduate of the same high school, works as a draftsman for Bethlehem Steel company.

Guests attended the wedding from Pottstown, Collegeville, Norristown, Philadelphia, Gettysburg, Allentown, Birdsboro and Washington D. C.

PEERING THROUGH the window of their reception bound car after the wedding service Saturday are Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Clay, whose vows were exchanged at services in Grace Lutheran church. After the party in the Eagles home, the newlyweds left for a honeymoon in Canada and Niagara Falls. They will make their home at 156 Spruce street.
